

Editorial Policy for the Sting Media Club

Posts uploaded on the Fear The Sting website are required to meet these guidelines:

- No encouragement of breaking school rules and/or school policies
- No profanity, especially derogatory comments against people, groups, other schools, organizations, etc.
- Approval from interviewee to use content from an interview (or multiple interviews) in an article
 - Writers can alter the content of the interview so long as it upholds the tone and topic of the interviewee
 - Alterations of an interview must be an attempt to improve the grammar/conciseness of the content of said interview
 - Alterations of an interview must never make the interviewee sound worse
- Citations are required when using pictures, quotes, etc.
- Teacher/student approval must be obtained before using his/her name in an article

Violation of this editorial policy will result in disciplinary action.
